Diogo Salomão, former Sporting Clube de Portugal and Deportivo Coruña Football player.

ABOUT US

Select was founded in 1947 by Eigil Nielsen, former goalkeeper of the Danish national team.

Nielsen dedicated his life to creating the perfect ball. The name Select comes from the materials being carefully “selected” to make the balls.

Plenty of innovations in the ball industry were inventions by Select. For instance, the first ball with no knots, the 32-pannel ball, and the synthetic leather ball were all invented by Select.

Always willing to continue innovating, Select has expanded its business to create high-quality sportswear, carefully choosing the best materials and paying close attention to every detail during the creation process.

Each team has its own identity, so Select provides unique designs tailored to each of them, always considering details such as their colors, emblem, and region to create the most

FABRICS

We carefully choose our fabrics to ensure the best quality in our sportswear. Each modality is different, and we use the material that best suits it when building our clothes.

Besides ensuring durability, we strive to make comfortable clothes in the right size to fit the person wearing them.

Since we do the entire process on our premises, we have control over early mistakes and correct them as soon as possible to ensure faster delivery.

COLORS

Colors are a crucial element of a team's identity. Throughout a long period of tests, we have built a color pallet with different colors that suit the team's needs.

This pallet has colors inspired by classic sports teams and colors used to stand out and differentiate.

Besides testing each color individually, we also tried different color schemes to ensure a visually pleasing result.

MAKING OF

SHOWROOM

Before creating a brand-new piece of sportswear, we invite our clients to come and see the work we have created previously.

This way, they will know what to request regarding fabrics, sizes, and designs. As we live in a print and digital era, this catalog intends to show our work to the clients who may be unable to visit our premises.

DESIGN

The first steps in creating a new piece of sportswear start with the Graphic Design team.

After researching details about the team in question, such as their history and location, they start drafting some ideas on paper and then create a mockup so that the client can have an idea of how the end product will look like.

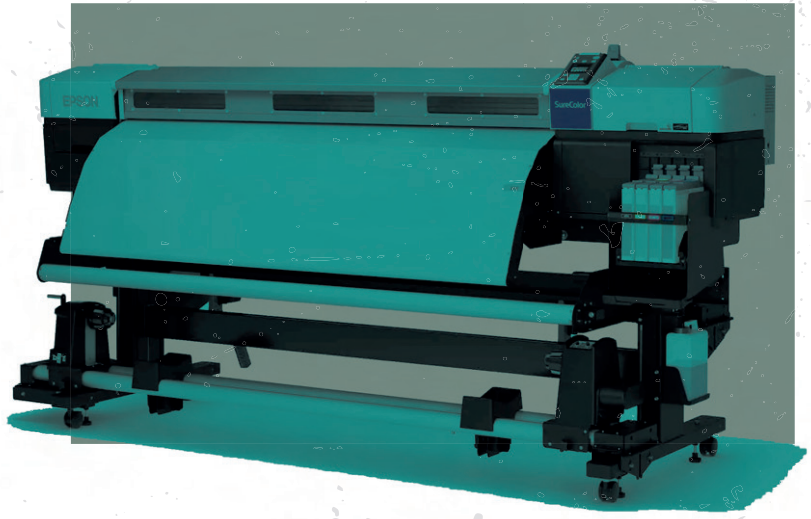

Once approved, they create the patterns previously sketched into vector shapes and put them into digital molds, ready to be printed.

PRINT

Once the design is complete and put inside the mold digitally, we use software to ensure that colors come out with the desired values.

Next, we send the molds to print on rolls of special paper that will later pass the ink to the tissue during the next step.

SUBLIMATION / TRANSFER

After the printing process is complete, we start the sublimation process.

We start by turning on our calender machine and letting it heat until it reaches 210º. The roll of fabric is placed above the roll of paper, both simultaneously pulled by the machine's rolls on the other end.

The heat inside the machine makes the ink from the paper transfer to the fabric. Both rolls start coming out separately, with the ink transferred to the fabric sheet.

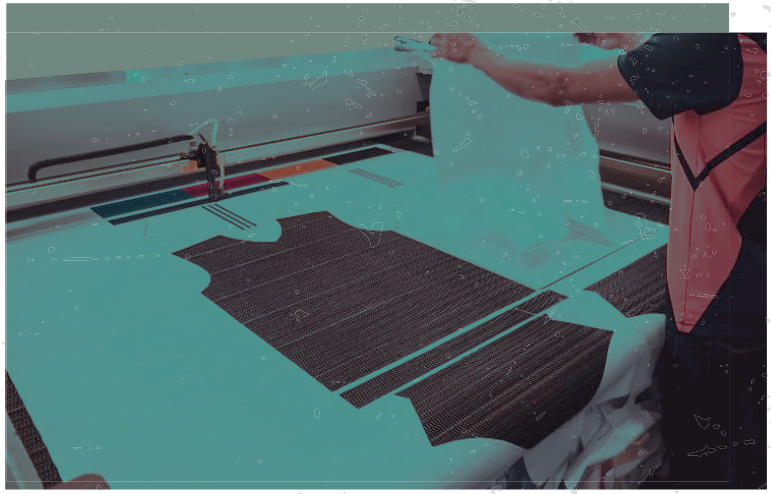

LASER-CUTTING

When the fabric gets inked, we lay them down in a laser-cutting machine to prepare for the next step.

The machine takes a picture of the entire sheet from above. We then use software to detect the contour around each piece.

Once the shape is shown right in the software, the machine starts using the laser to cut around the desired shapes. It is time to organize the pieces and prepare them for sewing.

SEWING

The pieces are almost ready, but not before going through one of the most crucial parts.

After being designed, printed, transferred to the fabric, and cut, it is the task of the seamstresses to assemble them. They need to follow specific instructions for each type of clothing, such as the number of lines to use, and see where the pieces fit.

When the sewing is complete, the piece of clothing may be finished, but there are a few more steps to do.

QUALITY CONTROL / LABELLING

Before the final piece is worthy of receiving the Select label, we carefully inspect the product and make sure we find no manufacturing defects.

When we confirm the quality, it is time to pack and label the sportswear. Let the matches begin!

OUR PARTNERS

As we commit to provide high-quality sportswear, our partners come from a wide range of sports, including football, handball, footsal and basketball.

We are always trying to expand our horizons in terms of variety, and seek out the best resources to expand the types of sports that we produce sportswear for.

Once a partner chooses Select, it is our priority to keep that partnership. We do this by guaranteeing quality products, and above all, a strong commnication.

FONTS & NUMBERS

We keep a varied library of fonts that we use for our teams. Despite their variety, our criteria for choosing them are legibility, simplicity, and a style that always fits the sport.

As with the colors, we tested these fonts in different clothing sizes to ensure they remain within readable boundaries.

Our variety of shapes in our fonts and numbers also ensures that there are options which fit the patterns used in the design.
